MEMORANDUM FOR: Inspector General

THROUGH : Deputy Director for Administration

SUBJECT : Claim for Loss of Personal Property of

STATINTL

1. Paragraph 7 of this memorandum requests your action or recommendations.

STATINTL

STATINTL

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED] Her claimed losses amount to $34,815.75 based upon acquisition prices which she established on each item. A copy of the inventory submitted as part of her claim is included as Attachment A.

STATINTL

3. Her claim was received by the Claims Review Officer (CRO) on 7 October 1975. Noting the size and detail of the claim, the CRO contacted the claimant and asked her for any receipts, cancelled checks, earnings statements, travel orders, records of weights of effects shipped, or any other documentation which would assist in substantiating the possession of such a large volume of personal property as well as verifying its acquisition cost. Her response to that request is contained in her memorandum dated 20 October (Attachment B) in which she also requested an advance of $5,000 against the settlement amount of her claim. It was customary to approve such requests for advance, particularly when losses were extensive, in order that the claimants might reestablish households and wardrobes. Ms. [REDACTED] request for the $5,000 advance was approved by the Chairman of the Claims Review Board (CRB), the Deputy Director for Administration (DD/A), and the Special Support Assistant to the DD/A on 29 October 1975.

STATINTL SUBJECT: Claim for Loss of Personal Property of [redacted]

STATINTL 4. As Ms. [redacted] claim went under detailed review in late October, it became apparent that certain categories of items were questionable from the standpoint of being "reasonable, useful, or proper under the circumstances" which is a condition for payment under the Military Personnel and Civilian Employees' Claims Act of 1964, as amended. More apparent, however, was the fact that acquisition prices of some items, particularly liquor, were obviously overstated. (In a later conversation with the CRO on 12 January 1976, the claimant indicated that she had used Maryland liquor store prices as opposed to the much lower prices prevailing in [redacted]. These figures were adjusted by the claimant when she appeared for an interview with the CRO on 30 January.) The CRO continued from the beginning to seek substantiating information and the STAT
STATINTL CRB met on 25 November to determine what additional steps might be taken to resolve the claim. STAT

[redacted]

STATINTL 5. The nature of the claim, and [redacted] STAT
STATINTL regarding it, were discussed informally with the Inspector General and a representative of the Office of General Counsel [redacted] on 12 December 1975. Although assistance was offered by [redacted] the CRB voted to exhaust its own review before referring the matter to another authority. However, further correspondence and interviews with the claimant failed to provide any substantive information which would assist the CRB in making an equitable decision in resolution of the claim. In summary, approximately 25 telephone calls, 8 pieces of correspondence, and many hours of analysis and meetings have gone into the review of this claim both with the claimant as well as with board members, support officers, or anyone who might have been able to assist in its settlement.

6. Having learned in January that the claimant was processing for another overseas assignment, and was scheduled to depart in February 1976, the CRB made special efforts to resolve the claim at the earliest possible date and, hopefully, before her departure. By Attachment D, the Chairman of the CRB requested the Chief, East Asia Division, and the Support Officer

[redacted] during the time period in question, to provide their comments, or the comments of persons who were associated with the claimant, which might substantiate her possession of the claimed items. The response to those requests are included as Attachments E and F. The CRB, in special session on 2 February 1976, reviewed that material and concluded that, because of the serious conflict between its information and that provided by the claimant, a decision on the claim could not be rendered. Having noted that significant discrepancies existed between the commercial asking prices for certain items claimed and the prices alleged to have been paid by the claimant (e.g., the portable typewriter and a random selection of books), the CRB determined that it had no alternative in the circumstances but to refer the claim to the Inspector General for an exhaustive investigation into its merits.

STATINTL

7. Accordingly, under the provisions of HR [redacted] paragraph 3a(2), it is requested that you investigate the subject claim and provide your findings and recommendations to the DD/A.

STATINTL

Requests for additional information may be directed to the undersigned or to Mr. [redacted] Room 2F31G,
